Enhanced Safety

AR allows workers to 'see' underground utilities and infrastructures before digging, reducing the risk of accidentally striking them. This can prevent potentially dangerous situations and costly repairs.

Increased Efficiency

Excavation teams can plan and execute their tasks more efficiently. By visualizing underground structures, they can determine the best digging paths and methods, reducing the time and effort required for excavation.

Cost Reduction

AR technology can lead to substantial cost savings. By preventing damage to existing underground utilities, it eliminates the need for expensive repairs and downtime.

Data Integration

AR systems can integrate data from various sources, such as GIS and CAD systems, providing a comprehensive view of the excavation site. This integration helps in better planning and coordination.
